

Kingdom Wealth for Couples

Building Financial Unity in Marriage

Unity is Your Greatest Asset

A house divided cannot stand (Mark 3:25). Financial disagreements destroy marriages. Commit to unity in your financial decisions, seeking God together.

Two Becoming One

You are no longer 'my money' and 'your money' - it's 'our money.' Join your finances completely. Transparency builds trust and eliminates hidden agendas.

Agree on the Vision

Where there is no vision, people perish (Proverbs 29:18). Sit together and write out your financial vision. What is God calling you to build together?

The Husband Leads, the Wife Advises

God designed the husband to lead the family financially, but the wife is a wise counselor. Listen to your spouse - God often speaks through them.

Budget as Worship

Your budget reveals your priorities. Create a budget together that honors God first (tithe), then covers needs, then funds vision. Review it monthly.

Pray Before Major Purchases

Never make a significant financial decision without prayer and agreement. Fast if necessary. God will give you peace or restraint.

Celebrate Small Wins

As you reach financial milestones together (debt paid off, savings goals hit), celebrate! Recognize God's faithfulness and your partnership.

Action Steps for Couples

1. Schedule a monthly 'Money Date' to review finances together.
2. Pray together daily for provision and wisdom.
3. Read a financial book together (recommendation: 'Master Your Money' by Ron Blue).
4. Commit to eliminate one source of conflict (debt, overspending, etc.) this quarter.
